Dear Adm. Turner:

I enjoyed very much the privilege and the pleasure of visiting with you at the Dallas Council on World Affairs luncheon, and particularly the excitement of being able to introduce you. I thought it was a magnificent effort, spoken with true candor, and real patriotic zeal for what is good and right and proper in the operation of your great organization.

Thank you for all of the marvelous service you have provided your country, and for the enthusiastic and dedicated effort you are lending to one of the most vital needs we have - to protect the freedom of this nation.

Your friendship, your courtesy, and the happiness of having you here will be long remembered.

Sincerely.
